EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Delaware Nursing Home Utilization Statistical Report (DNHUSR) is published annually by the Delaware Health Care Commission (DHCC) as a method of reporting trends in Delaware's long-term care and rehabilitation services landscape. The 2022 DNHUSR highlights the ongoing impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on Delaware nursing home utilization trends.

In 2022, 45 Delaware nursing homes operated a maximum of 4,783 licensed beds. With the exception of the Delaware Hospital for the Chronically Ill in Smyrna, all licensed nursing homes in Delaware are privately owned and operated. In 2022, Delaware nursing homes collectively admitted 9,870 patients. Although the total number of 2022 admissions remained 16.5% lower compared to 2019 (i.e., the year immediately prior to the start of the COVID-19 pandemic), admission statistics reflect a partial rebound from pandemic impacts. Across each of Delaware's three counties, a majority of private nursing home admissions represent residents of the county in which the facility is located. In 2022, Sussex County nursing homes had the largest percentage of out-of-state admissions (9.1%) relative to facilities in New Castle County (3.8%) and Kent County (2.1%). Nursing home discharge trends closely mirror admission trends across all three counties. In 2022, 55.2% of patients discharged from Delaware nursing homes returned to their own home or a relative's home. Nearly one-quarter of discharged nursing home patients were discharged to hospital-based care, and 12.1% of all discharges were due to death.

In 2022, females accounted for approximately 60% of all Delaware nursing home admissions and discharges. White patients accounted for 76.3% of nursing home admissions and 76.7% of nursing home discharges in 2022. In the same year, Black patients accounted for 20.9% of nursing home admissions and 20.5% of nursing home discharges. Patients of other races accounted for 2.7% of 2022 nursing home admissions and 2.8% of 2022 nursing home discharges. The racial breakdown of 2022 nursing home admissions and discharges aligns with Delaware's demographic distribution among the 65+ population. Individuals ages 75-84 comprised the largest percentage of 2022 admissions and discharges (34.0% of admissions and 33.9% of discharges). The youngest category of patients – those under age 65 – accounted for 12.4% of admissions and 11.1% of discharges in 2022.

In 2022, private nursing homes in New Castle, Kent, and Sussex Counties operated at 82.8%, 70.6%, and 73.7% occupancy, respectively. These data reflect a partial return to pre-pandemic occupancy rate levels that approached or exceeded 90%.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The 2022 Delaware Nursing Home Utilization Statistical Report (DNHUSR) was funded by the Delaware Health and Social Services, Delaware Health Care Commission and is the product of collaborative support from the Delaware Health Care Facilities Association, the Division of Services for Aging and Adults with Physical Disabilities, and Delaware nursing homes. The Delaware Health Care Commission thanks these stakeholders and other subject matter experts who provided background information, analysis, and feedback to inform the development of this report.

INTRODUCTION

This, the 36th edition of the Delaware Nursing Home Utilization Statistical Report (DNHUSR), summarizes Delaware nursing home trend data for January through December 2022. Data summarized in the DNHUSR are submitted on a monthly basis by Delaware nursing homes¹, and aggregated at the end of the reporting year to yield annual trend data by nursing home facility and county. The DNHUSR presents 2022 Delaware nursing home data in two main sections.

- Part 1 of the report (Delaware Nursing Home Utilization Statistics) summarizes data from 2012 through 2022 and provides a high-level view of nursing home utilization trends in Delaware over the past decade. Data presented in Part 1 are aggregated to the state- and county-levels.
- Part 2 of the report (Facility-Level Nursing Home Utilization Statistics) presents facility-level data, including total patient days, occupancy rates, percentage of patients by source of payment, and annual admissions and discharges. Part 2 of the DNHUSR provides a more detailed view of utilization trends among Delaware's licensed nursing homes.

The 2022 DNHUSR reflects the ongoing impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on Delaware nursing home utilization trends. Since 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic has profoundly impacted nursing homes and other long-term care facilities across the U.S. Delaware's total number of nursing home admissions in 2022 (9,870) partially rebounded from the historic low of 2020 (8,238) but remained 16.5% lower than pre-pandemic values. From 2021 to 2022, the aggregate occupancy rate for private Delaware nursing homes increased from 74.0% to 76.5%. Future iterations of the DNHUSR will continue to quantify the long-term impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on nursing home utilization trends.

STATEWIDE POPULATION PROJECTIONS

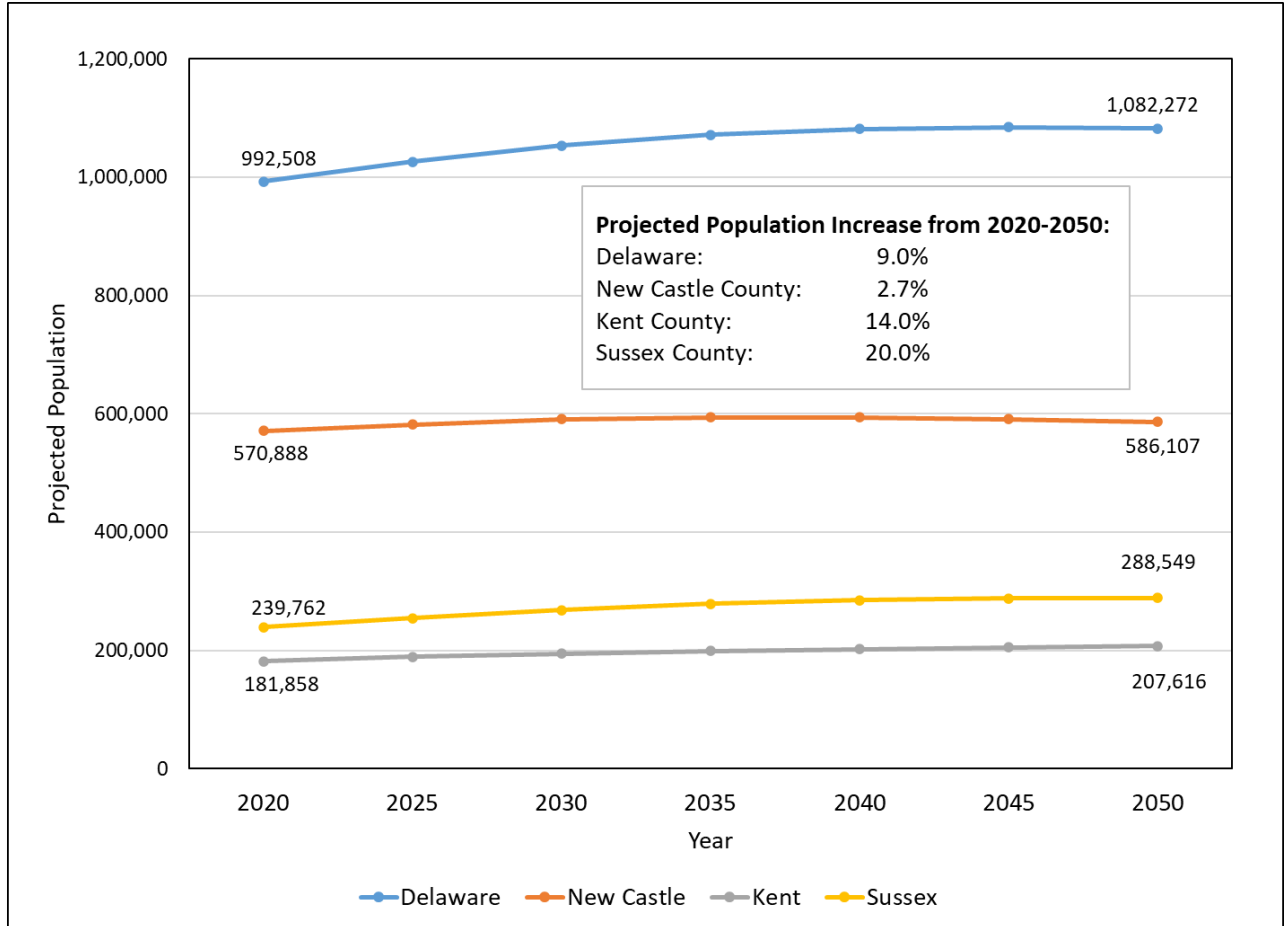

Population growth is central to understanding Delaware's nursing home utilization trends and future nursing home bed need. DHCC analyzed 2022 Delaware Population Consortium data to provide the context within which to evaluate Delaware's ability to meet nursing home bed demand.

Total Population Growth. Between 2020 and 2050, Delaware's total population is expected to increase 9.0%, rising from 992,508 to 1,082,272 (Figure 1). The anticipated growth in total population growth is distributed unevenly across Delaware's counties. While the total population of New Castle County is expected to increase 2.7% from 2020 to 2050, the expected rate of population growth in Delaware’s lower two counties is more pronounced. From 2020 to 2050, total population is expected to increase 14.0% in Kent County and 20.0% in Sussex County.

Population Growth Among the 65+ Population. Projected population growth is more dramatic among older Delawareans (Figure 2). From 2020 to 2050, the population of Delawareans ages 65 and older is expected to increase 41.0%, rising from 190,427 to 268,561. The expected rate of population growth increases with age. From 2020 to 2050, the number of Delawareans ages 65-69 and 75-79 is projected to increase 9.9% and 8.0%, respectively. The number of adults ages 75-79 and ages 80-84 is expected to increase 37.4% and 86.2%, respectively. In comparison, the number of Delawareans ages 85+ is expected to increase 150.8% from 2020-2050 (Figure 2).

2022 NURSING HOME FACILITIES AND LICENSED BEDS

In 2022, 45 Delaware nursing homes operated a maximum of 4,783 licensed beds (Table 1). With the exception of the Delaware Hospital for the Chronically Ill in Smyrna, all licensed nursing homes in Delaware are privately owned and operated. Throughout 2022, the total number of licensed nursing home beds in use at any one time fluctuated due to facility closures and increases and reductions in licensed bed counts.²

2022 NURSING HOME ADMISSIONS

In 2022, Delaware nursing homes collectively admitted 9,870 patients (Table 2; Figure 3). Although the total number of 2022 admissions remained 16.5% lower compared to 2019 (i.e., the year immediately prior to the start of the COVID-19 pandemic), admission statistics reflect a partial rebound from pandemic impacts. In New Castle County, 2022 nursing home admissions increased 10.2% from 2021 to 2022. Sussex County facilities experienced a 6.3% increase in total admissions from 2021 to 2022. In Kent County, total admissions to private nursing homes declined 2.9% from 2021 to 2022. Annual admissions to Delaware public nursing homes have historically fluctuated due to facility closures and/or reductions in the number of available licensed public nursing home beds. In 2022, eight patients were admitted to Delaware’s sole public nursing home facility, Delaware Hospital for the Chronically III.

Patient Residency Status. Across each of Delaware’s three counties, a majority of private nursing home admissions represent residents of the county in which the facility is located (Figure 4). For example, in 2022, 94.7% of all admissions to New Castle County nursing homes represented New Castle County residents. Similarly, in 2022, 84.0% of admissions to Kent County nursing homes represented Kent County residents, and 80.4% of admissions to Sussex County nursing homes represented Sussex County residents. Sussex County nursing homes had the largest percentage of out-of-state admissions (9.1%) relative to facilities in New Castle County (3.8%) and Kent County (2.1%).

2022 NURSING HOME DISCHARGES

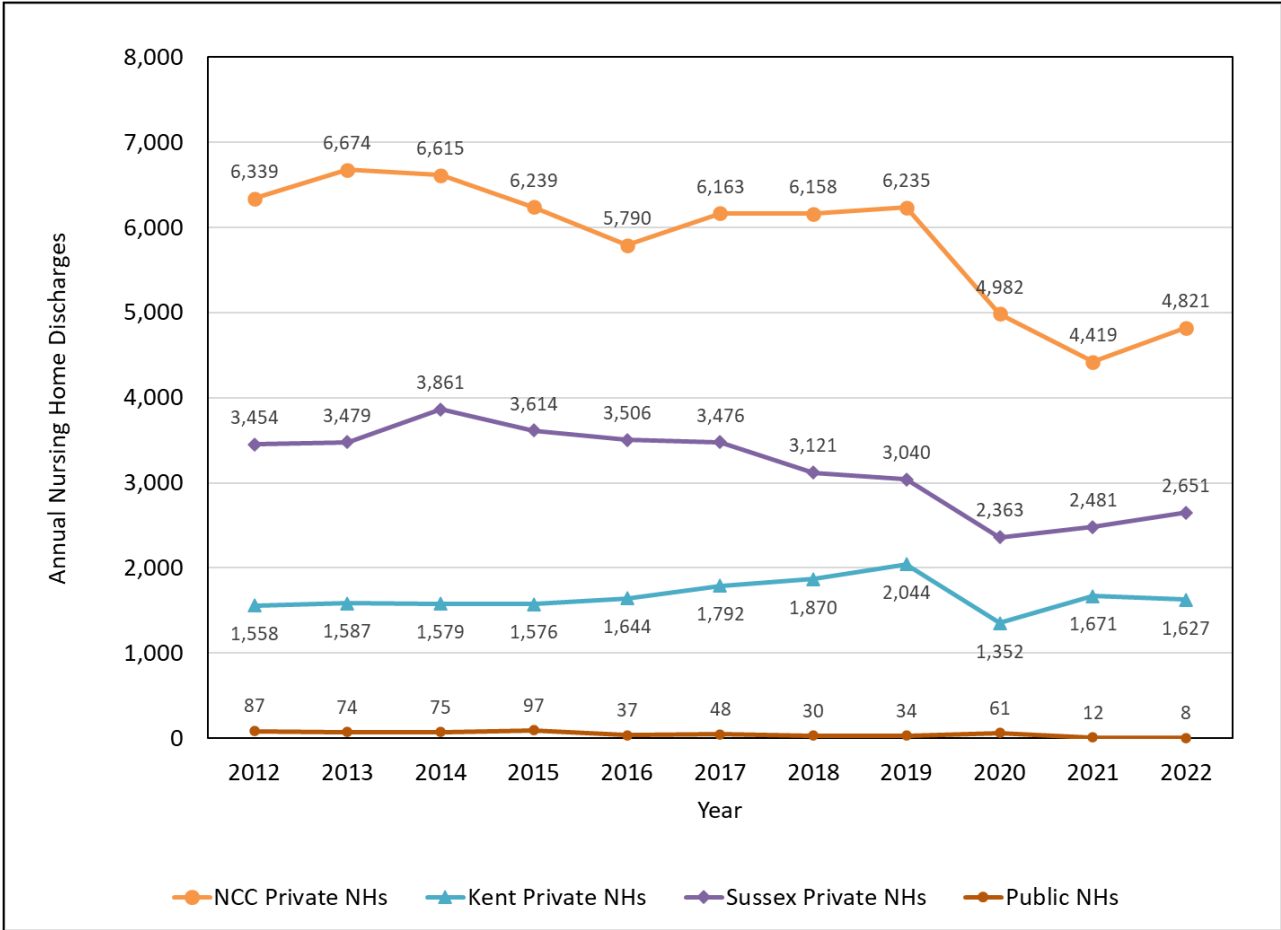

In 2022, Delaware nursing homes discharged 9,107 patients (Table 3; Figure 5). Discharge trends closely mirror admission trends across all three counties. In New Castle County, nursing home discharges increased 9.1% from 2021 to 2022. Sussex County facilities experienced a 6.9% increase in discharges from 2021 to 2022. In Kent County, discharges from private nursing homes declined 2.6% from 2021 to 2022. Although the total number of 2022 discharges remained 19.8% lower compared to 2019 (i.e., the year immediately prior to the start of the COVID-19 pandemic), discharge statistics provide additional evidence of Delaware nursing homes’ continued rebound from pandemic impacts.

Patient Discharge Destination. In 2022, over half (55.2%) of patients discharged from Delaware Nursing Homes returned to their own home or a relative’s home (Figure 6). Nearly one-quarter of discharged Nursing Home patients were discharged to hospital-based care, and 12.1% of all discharges were due to death. Smaller proportions of patients discharged from Delaware nursing homes moved to an Assisted Living facility (5.0%), another long-term care facility (3.0%), or another destination (1.3%).

2022 NURSING HOME PATIENT DEMOGRAPHICS

Patient Sex. In 2022, females accounted for approximately 60% of all Delaware nursing home admissions and discharges (Figure 7). Females accounted for 5,759 of 9,870 nursing home admissions and 5,400 of 9,107 nursing home discharges.

Source: Delaware Health Care Commission, 2023.

Patient Race. White patients accounted for 76.3% of nursing home admissions and 76.7% of nursing home admissions in 2022. In the same year, Black patients accounted for 20.9% of nursing home admissions and 20.5% of nursing home discharges. Patients of other races accounted for 2.7% of 2022 nursing home admissions and 2.8% of 2022 nursing home discharges. The 2022 racial breakdown of nursing home admissions and discharges aligns with Delaware’s demographic distribution. The Delaware Population Consortium estimates that in 2022, White residents accounted for 78.7% of Delaware’s 65+ population, the cohort most likely to utilize nursing home and rehabilitation services.

Patient Age. The overwhelming majority of patients admitted to and discharged from Delaware Nursing homes in 2022 were aged 65 or older (Figure 8). For both admissions and discharges, individuals ages 75-84 comprised the largest patient cohorts; patients ages 75-84 accounted for 34.0% of admissions and 33.9% of discharges from Delaware nursing homes in 2022. The youngest category of patients – those under age 65 – accounted for 12.4% of admissions and 11.1% of discharges in 2022.

Source: Delaware Health Care Commission, 2023.

In general, Black patients and patients of other races admitted to and discharged from Delaware Nursing Homes tended to be younger compared to White patients. Among Black patients and patients of other races, 20.8% and 18.7% of nursing home admissions represented individuals under the age of 65. In comparison, less than 10% of White patients admitted to Delaware Nursing Homes in 2022 were under the age of 65. Discharge statistics mirror admission statistics in terms of patient race and age. Among Black patients and patients of other race discharged from Delaware Nursing Homes in 2022, 18.2% and 18.8% were under the age of 65, respectively. In comparison, 8.9% of all White patients discharged from Delaware Nursing Homes in 2022 represented individuals under the age of 65.

Patient Source of Payment. In 2022, a majority (61.9%) of Delaware Nursing Home patients used Medicaid as their primary source of payment (Figure 9). Smaller proportions of Delaware Nursing Home patients utilized Medicare (16.5%) and Self-Pay (15.1%) as primary sources of payment in 2022. In 2022, approximately 7% of all Nursing Home patients used a different source payment source for their care.

2022 NURSING HOME BILLABLE PATIENT DAYS

A commonly used measure of nursing home utilization is the number of billable patient days generated by a facility over a given time period. A billable patient day represents a unit of time (i.e., one day) during which the facility’s services are used by one patient. For example, if a nursing home has 100 patients on a specific day, the facility has generated 100 billable patient days for that 24-hour period. If a facility’s number of billable patient days increases from one time period to the next, it is an indication that the facility is (a) caring for more patients, (b) caring for patients for longer periods of time, or (c) a combination of these two factors.

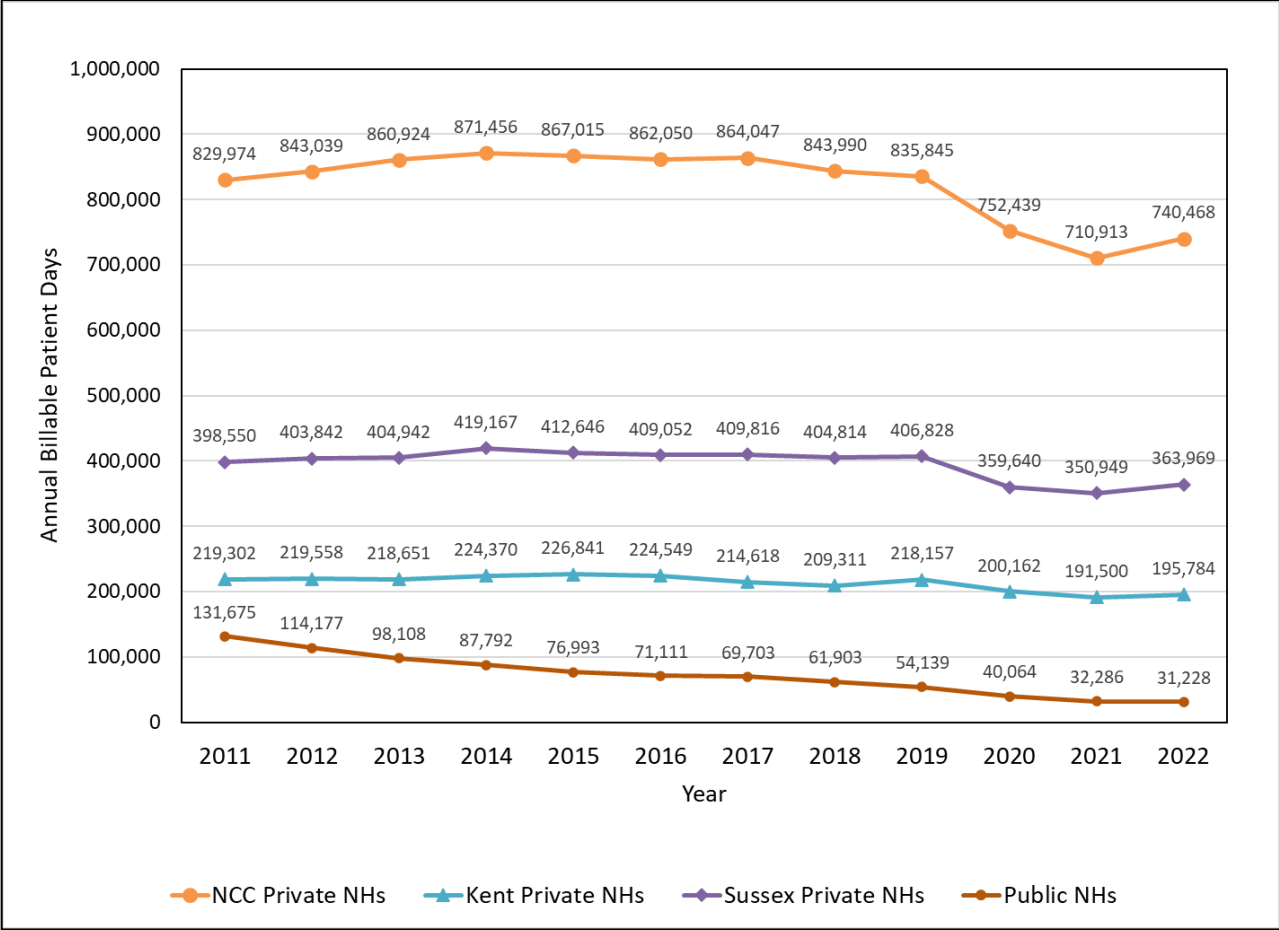

From 2011-2019, annual billable patient days for private facilities in all three counties remained relatively stable (Table 4; Figure 10). From 2019-2021, billable patient days declined across New Castle, Kent, and Sussex Counties amid the COVID-19 pandemic. From 2021-2022, billable patient days for private nursing home facilities increased across all three Delaware counties (4.2% increase for New Castle County facilities, 2.2% increase for Kent County facilities, and 3.7% increase for Sussex County facilities); these data suggest a partial bounce-back in Delaware private nursing home metrics following the COVID-19 pandemic. In contrast, billable patient days in public facilities have steadily declined from 2012-2022.

2022 NURSING HOME OCCUPANCY RATES

Occupancy rates are helpful for putting facilities’ utilization data within the context of available resources. A facility’s occupancy rate reflects the percentage of available beds occupied by patients throughout the reporting year. Occupancy rates are weighted based on the number of days a facility was open during the reporting year. Mathematically, Occupancy Rate = [(Number of Billable Patient Days) / (Number of Licensed Bed Days)] * 100% where (Number of Licensed Bed Days) equals the sum of the monthly number of licensed bed days in a facility (calculated as number of licensed beds multiplied by number of days in the month). If a facility was open fewer than 12 months, occupancy rate reflects the percentage of available beds occupied by patients during the months in which the facility was open.

In 2022, private nursing homes in New Castle, Kent, and Sussex Counties operated at 82.8%, 70.6%, and 73.7% occupancy, respectively (Table 5; Figure 11).³ In the decade prior to the COVID-19 pandemic (i.e., from 2011-2019), occupancy rates for private nursing homes consistently approached or exceeded 90%. Occupancy rates for private nursing homes in New Castle and Kent County increased from 2021 to 2022, reflecting a partial return to pre-pandemic levels. Sussex County facilities' overall occupancy rate of 73.7% reflects a slight decline relative to 2021.

³ The comparatively lower occupancy rate for Kent County private nursing homes relative to New Castle County and Sussex County private facilities, reflects a facility-related nuance: the Delaware Veterans Home (a larger, 150-bed facility) operates at a comparatively lower-occupancy (37.7% in 2022) due in part to admissions-based patient criteria including U.S. Veteran status.

APPENDIX A

2022 NURSING HOME UTILIZATION AMONG THE UNDER 65 POPULATION

Beginning with the 2019 DNHUSR, the DHCC began collecting cohort-specific admissions, discharge, and billable patient days data on the Under 65 nursing home patient population. Prior to the 2019 annual report, data pertaining to this cohort were consolidated in an Under 65 category. Currently, Delaware nursing homes report monthly utilization data for populations age 18-34, 35-44, 45-54, and 55-64, and the DHCC uses these data to track nursing home utilization metrics among younger populations.

In 2022, patients under the age of 65 accounted for 1,223 of 9,870 (12.4%) nursing home admissions and 1,012 of 8,583 (11.1%) nursing home discharges. The largest percentage of nursing home patients under the age of 65 represented adults ages 55-64. Patients ages 55-64 represented 80.5% of nursing home admissions and 79.4% of nursing home discharges among the Under 65 population. Females accounted for 47.8% of nursing home admissions and 48.7% of nursing home discharges among the Under 65 population in 2022. In the same year, White patients accounted for 60.8% of nursing home admissions and 62.9% of nursing home discharges among the Under 65 population. In 2022, the majority (36 of 45; 80.0%) of Delaware nursing homes admitted at least one patient under the age of 65.
